President's Letter

March 2025

Dear Fellow APCR Members,

I am delighted to extend a heartfelt invitation to you for the 73rd Annual AAR Meeting, which will take place in the vibrant city of Los Angeles, CA, from March 10-14, 2025. This year's gathering is particularly special, as we commemorate our 25th Anniversary under the celebratory theme: Coordinating with The Stars! We anticipate this to be the most exciting and significant APCR event to date, reflecting on our organization's incredible journey over the past quarter-century and honoring the invaluable contributions of our dedicated members and distinguished Past Presidents who have helped shape our legacy and future.

If you haven't yet registered, there's still time to secure your place at this momentous event. Don't miss this fantastic opportunity to connect with peers, celebrate our collective achievements, and forge new friendships that will last a lifetime.

Stay tuned for the upcoming 2025 Spring Newsletter, where you will find detailed information about the special AAR events planned exclusively for our members. Look out for engaging activities, enlightening workshops, and thought-provoking discussions tailored just for you—these details will be delivered straight to your inbox!

Since I became a member of APCR in 2012, I have been continuously inspired by the unwavering commitment demonstrated by our members. The support from our dedicated committees has been invaluable, and the insightful discussions we share—whether in person during our annual conferences or virtually through our online platforms—have enriched my experience. Together, we have fostered an environment of collaboration that has led to the development of innovative solutions tailored to the unique challenges we face in our field. We have uplifted one another through mentorship and shared resources, all while reinforcing the vital role that program coordinators play in shaping the future of Radiology. APCR truly embodies a vibrant community where meaningful connections thrive, new ideas take root, and our collective impact on our profession continues to expand.

As I prepare to step down from my role, I do so with immense confidence in our incoming President, Amanda Hicks. Her exceptional leadership skills, clear vision for our future, and unwavering dedication to our mission will undoubtedly drive us forward into new and exciting innovations. I believe that under her guidance, we will continue to nurture growth, encourage collaboration, and achieve excellence in all our endeavors.

I encourage all of you to stay engaged in our community, whether through committee involvement – an excellent opportunity to shape key initiatives and drive meaningful change within our field and organization. APCR thrives because of the passion and dedication of its members, and you truly embody the spirit and mission of this organization.

Finally, I would like to express my gratitude to the incredible APCR Board of Directors, Committee Chairs, Past Presidents, and Committee Members. Thank you for your unwavering dedication and enthusiasm that drives our organization forward. While many may not see the countless hours you devote, please know that both I and our members deeply appreciate your hard work and commitment.

Serving this remarkable organization has been a profound honor for me, and I am truly humbled by the unwavering camaraderie that characterizes our APCR community.

With gratitude,
